Campobello, South Carolina – 3/30/2022 – An Upstate luxury landscaping and pool project is receiving national recognition as a finalist in the 2022 HGTV Ultimate Outdoor Awards. The awards showcase top-tier landscape and architectural designs from across the country, and are hosted by the HGTV network with a national viewership of 84 million U.S. households.

The DabneyCollins Company, a Greenville landscape design firm, is one of eight finalists in the Poolside Paradise category. The Heirloom Companies of Campobello, SC—the premier wood and metal works manufacturer in the eastern United States—partnered with DabneyCollins to create a handcrafted copper and iron dining pavilion as well as a drive gate for the project.

“DabneyCollins has created some of the finest luxury outdoor spaces in the Southeast, so we were honored they chose Heirloom to help bring this incredible project to life,” said James Moseley, head of design at The Heirloom Companies.

“There was never a doubt in our mind who we wanted to handle the gate and pavilion,” said Nathan Schaupp of DabneyCollins. “The Heirloom Companies work is iconic around Greenville. From the Brown Street signage to the pavilion at Cancer Survivor’s Park and much more, their creativity and craftsmanship speaks for itself. We knew that we could count on them to create one-of-a-kind pieces that would beautifully complement our project.”

Visitors to HGTV’s website and the 2022 Ultimate Outdoor Awards page can view amazing outdoor spaces and lush landscapes from the nation’s top designers and architects. They can also vote daily for their favorite project in each of five categories until April 12th, and enter a sweepstakes for a chance to win $5,000.

“I would encourage everyone to visit HGTV.com to see the project for themselves. Then vote early and vote often!” added James Moseley, with a laugh.

About The Heirloom Companies

The Heirloom Companies was founded in 1994 and is the premier wood and metal works manufacturer in the eastern United States. It produces award-winning custom stairways, light fixtures and other architectural elements through a process blending old-world craftsmanship with new-age technology. The Heirloom Companies is three companies in one— James Moseley Designs, Heirloom Stair and Iron which focuses primarily on residential construction by producing interior and exterior staircases and railings, and Hand-Forged Design specializing in interior products such as furniture, light fixtures, range hoods and fire screens.

The company's work can be seen at the ongoing Unity Park project, the sculptural archways that anchor the two ends of Brown Street in downtown Greenville and at Cancer Survivor's Park.
